As before stated, he left the establishment in which he had been employed, stating that his purpose was to return to his native city, Is search of lizzie Marshall. Toir person is a young woman when Goodwin brought with him when he first came to Philadelphia. Her native place is Lynn, Mass. Sae is rather short in stature and slight in person, with a dark complexion, black eyes and black hair, and might be considered quite good looking. She has lived with Godwin as his lawful wife until a month since, when she left him, her affections having been estranged by a young man named Samuel W. Randall, who was introduced to her by him (Godwin). We have already said that two weeks ago Goodwin went to discover her in that city proving ineffectual, he returned to New York, and wrote, from French's Hotel, to a friend here, that Lizzie was with him at that hotel. Lizzie, however, was seen in company with Randall last Monday night. Goodwin arrived in this city on Tnesday night. Yesterday, he went to his old place of basicess. There he displayed two pistols. One of these had three barrels, all of which was charged. He his late fellows to purchase the latter. Last night, Goodwin was at the American House, on Chestnut street. He lounged about the ritting-room until 1 o'clock this morning, when he was turned out by the watchman attached to the premises. We now come to the fearful catastropia of to day.

Fracklin square never presented a more charming appearance than it did this morning. The grass, fresh and green, and the leafy branches musical with the merry voices of the birds; the flashing fountain, and the sby flowers twinking in their emerald beds, made up a rare scene of enchantment and joyoueners. But his picture of parity and peace was destined to be sadly marred. At 20 minutes past 10 o'clock its still ness was broken by the sharp report of a pistol, immediately followed by another. A crowd of persons, attracted by these unwonted sounds, has hly repaired to the north-east corner of the square, where they discovered a woman and a man lying on the ground, apparently dead. The man was George L. Goodwin; the woman was Lizzie Marshall. It appears that the latter was sitting on one of two stools on an avenue leading to the north-eastern gate, and not very far from that entrance, when Goodwin approached her, and, instantly drawing out his three-barreled pistol, discharged one of its barrels at her, the ball lodging in her left side, immediately beneath her breast. He and, instantly drawing out his three-barried pistor, discharged one of its barriels at her, the ball lodging in her left side, immediately beneath her breast. He dreped the weapon, but in an instant picked it up again, and, with another harrel, sho himself in nearly the same part of the body, the ball entering directly below his heart. The woman was carried to the drug store of George C. Bower, on the north east corner of Siath and Vine streets. Three physicians were called in-Mesers. Levis, Gloninger and Bethel. They probed the wound, but were unable at once to find the ball. She was afterward conveyed to her residence in a carriage. She was neatly dressed at the time, wearing a brown striped silk dress and a light straw bonnet with a vail. Goodwin was borne to the Sixth Ward Station-House in Cnerry street, between Fourth and Pifth, where he expired in less than an hour.

The following epistle, which has something of the nature of a "last will and testament," was found in the pockets of the suicide:

New York, May 10, 1838. Nuw. York, May 10, 1838, tunnstances, I wish my body conveyed to my mother, who resides at No. 82 West Cedar street, Hoston, Massachusetts. In Me I loved, with my whole soul, one who proved heartests to me; but feeling that I must die of a broken heart, with my last breath, I diefgiving her my full forgiveness for all the agony she has caused me, and to love—may to Isolize her. I am speaking of Lizzle, known as Mrs. Lizzle Goodwin, and may God forgive her, as I new do.

Lizzie, known as Mrs. Lizzie Goodwin, and may God forgive her, as I new do.

I have on my person, as jewelry two breastpins, connected by a small gold chain, four shirt stude, two rold rings—a small ene given me by Lizzie, and which I do not want taken off my finger, but buried with me—the other, a large seal one, I wish given to Louisa. My two pins I wish given to Lizzie, I have on me, also, a silver watch, a gold chain and charm (a barrel), and a beguerrectype of Samuel W. Randall, and a book chaim, and a picture shut up in if, and about $28 in spacie, which are all I have not herein given to others. I wish all my clothes, and all i possess to be given to my mother. I have on me a set of sleeve buttons. My large seal ring I want given to Louisa, who lives at my mother's, in Booton, and may she prosper and be happy. I ask forgiveness of all mankind, and if I have wonged any one, let them remember death should chose all hird feelings. May God have merey on my soul.

GEORGE S. GOODWIN.

Samuel W. Randall of Philadelphia has said he would kill one for life which has become hateful to me. It is hard to think a man like Samuel W. Randall has sworn to take away my life.

THE CORONER'S INQUEST.

Coroner Fenner proceeded to the Sixth Ward Station-House this afternoon, and, after summoning a Jury, comme "ed an inquest upon the body of Goodwin. Thre or four witnesses were examined, but the most important evidence was that of Samuel W. Randall. He knew both parties, Goodwin lived with Lizzie as his wife until three weeks ago; at that time Goodwin said to her that he had been working long enough for her, and she must now work for him; he took her to New-York for the purpose of placing her in a house of ill-fame; she sent for Randall, and he went to New-York after her; he brought her to this in a house of ill-fame; she sent for Kandall, and he went to New-York after her; he brought her to this went to New-York after her; he brought her to the in a house of ill-fame; she sent for history, and active to New-York after her; he brought her to this tity and stopped at Bloodgood's Hotel, and then secured lodging for her at No. 112 Arch street; yesterday he received a letter from Goodwin, requesting Randall and her to meet him in Franklin square this morning; the artangements were made to meet him there, near the south western gate; accordingly, Lizzie and Randall went to the square this morning at the appointed time, and, not seeing Goodwin, walked around; as they approached the Sixth-street gate, Goodwin entered, with his hand in his pocket; the parties walked round to where there were some stools, and Lizzie sat down; Randall and Goodwin shook hands; Goodwin asked her if she would live with him; she replied that she would not, as he did not treat her well; she said, "Did you not tell me you "would keep me without work? and now you have "taken a house in Harrison street for me, and said you have worked long enough for me."

Goodwin then asked her if she could not give him some parting gift. She replied "Yes," when he re-

Goodwin then asked her if she could not give him some parting gift. She replied "Yes," when he requested a private conversation. Randall then walked a short distance off and leaned against a lamp past, looking toward the Vine street gate. In a moment his attention was attracted by the report of a patol, and turning around, Lizzie exclaimed, "My God, Sam, I'm shot." Randall turned around and said, "Arrest that man, he has shot a woman." Goodwin then looked at Randall, and the latter, thinking he intended shooting him, made off. Goodwin then threw his nead back, and looking up, shot himself.

A dequerrectype of L'zzie Marshall, without any care, was found upon the person of Goodwin.

Miss Marshall resided in two rooms in a house kept by a Mrs. Campbell, adjoining the City Bank, in Sixth street, just above the market.

The physicians say that Lizzie is sinking from the effects of the wound, and that she will probably die. The ball has been extracted.

Goodwin has a wife and two children living at No. St. East Cedar street, Boston. His mother likewise resides there.

The North American says that Samuel W. Randall the lover for whom Lizzie discarded George, was an egert for a New-York manufacturing jewelry concern. Lizzie's real name, it turns out, was Anua Garland.

POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

The Board of Police met yesterday afternoon at 2] o'clock, Gen. Nye in the chair.

The General-Superintendent presented his Quarterly Report. He says

Report. He says:
From the returns it will appear that the force in the City of New York consists of 16 captains, 7 acting captains, 65 sergesists, 48 roundsmen, 51 document, 1,067 patronnent and 124 men detailed for special duty-making a total of 1.186 mem. It will be observed that 40 of this number conscitute the River and Harbor Police.

It also appears by the returns that the number of arrests in the City of New-York during the past quarter was 14,589, headle which the compaints were made to the prosecuting officers for violation of the Sabbah and other ordinances of the Corporation.

These statistics exhibit an efficiency on the part of the police during the past quarter far exceeding any that has herefolione been manifested by this Department. This excess is presented in striking contrast with previous returns, as exhibited by the relative arrests made in the respective precincts during the last quarter, together with the character of the offences for which the prisoners were arrested, and it is not the least stralifying part, that, while the whole estimated value of the property alread to have been roblen was $38,982 10, property to the value of $24,70 was recovered, and returned to its rightful owners.

The Report are presents a most gratifying account of the utility of the Metropolitan Telegraph, not only in transmitting orders to the ratious Freedment, but as affording greatly increased families in discovering and restoring jost friends to their relatives, and expectally oblidiers to their parents—22 adults and 631 left children have been restored to their families by the police, greatly aided by the instrumentality of the telegraph. The receivery of 168 stray herees, and the immediate communication to all parts of the city of the tolegraph. foring the same period $150 persons were accommodated with longings, and 296 lost children were restored to their parents. I regard to be again compelled to call the attention of the Commissioners to the necessity of calling upon the constituted municipal authorities for an increase of the Police force. The rapid increase of population in the City of New York, its gradual extension of buildings upon the Island, and its consequent augmentation of wealth and of property, which require a corresponding increase of protective force, render an appeal for additional rationers absolutely necessary.

sheald be increased. I append to this the report of the inspector commanding that force, and respectfully invoke your persual of its.

In conclusion, I take pleasure in commending the good conduct of the officers and patroimen of the Metropolitan Police. Some cases of derellation of day have occurred, which have been summarily noticed, corrected or punished by the Board of Con absiliancers. Weekly stills of the men are producing a salutary effect, and the good discipline of the force, and the occasional drills and parasies with maskets, have greatly improved the force, and are rendering them as efficient protection to the city in case of tunuit, superceding the necessity of appealing to the military arm of the government in any such case of emergency.

In case of a reasonable increase of our force, we can insure protection to the public, provided that public will take reasonable requently committed, and the police are consured for inefficiency in not preventing them—when if the public, who are too willing to censure, would but note the frequency and number of stores left unsecured, and which are reported—and especially would consider how few are secured by boths or other fast-mings, which consider how few are secured by boths or other fast-mings, which consider how few are secured by boths or other fast-mings, which cannot be reached or removed by the ingenious contrivators of burglars from the outded of buildings, the cause of cassure would in many cases be removed.

Ordinary looks and key afford but little security against midnight depredators; while the key-nippers facilities an entrance into dwellings and places of business, an ordinary inside bolt will afford the only secure protection, especially in regard to the dwellings.

shord the only case the significant fact that, by the returns that accompany this report, it appears that in the City of New-York, out of the whole number of persons arrested, 11,355 were of foreign crisin, against 2,844 native born, and that in Brooklyn, out of 2567 prisurers arrested, 2,858 were foreign birth, and 869 natives at the United States.

TERRIBLE MURDER BY NEGROES.—A letter dated Centre Viliage, Charlton County, Ga., May 5, 1838, says: A dreafful murder has just taken place here. The victim was Mr. Henry H. Jones, who has just been murdered in a frightful manner by the negroes of Dr. Ballard of this place. As soon as Jones was found missing, suspisions areae, and one of the negroes, named Peter, confessed to the murder. He owned to his having struck Mr. Jones the first blew, but says that others beside him were equally concerned. Three others acknowledged helping to tote (carry) the body down to the bay, where they dug a hole and buried the body. The three negroes accompanied Mr. Davis and others to the spot where the body was disinterred, identified, and an inquest was held thereon, after which it was buried properly yesterday. Dr. Ballard gave bonds in the sum of $3,000 for the appearance of three his negroes to answer the charge. One has been sent to Waresboro Jail. [Cor. of The Georgian.

FRIDAY, May 14-P. M. The Stock market was extremely well sustained today, but less active for speculative descriptions. Movements at the First Board were slow and dragging. indicating quite as much strength in the undertone as heretofore reported, but displaying in the various leading stocks the same apathetic feeling, and superficially the same tendency to a stagnant condition of business. Beneath the surface, however, we find a very substantial support to prices, in the indisposition of people to sell, and in the scarcity of cash stock in the street. New-York Central was very steady but inactive, varying but sightly during the call from prices at the close of vesterday. Several of the leading Directors are on the ground at the scene of the late disaster, and we understand settlements of the claims of about one half of those injured have already been made. It is estimated that the entire loss by the disaster will not exceed $100,000, and some parties place it as low as $80,000. Eric opened at 241, but was subjected to a smart attack from the bears and went to 24; on the call, though up again to 244 immediately after the adjournment. The earnings in April, as per statement below, were $19,000 in advance of the corresponding month of last year. The receipts in May, thus far, are $15,000 in excess of the same time in 1857. Hudson River was very strong, and the stock taken up freely at quotations, without any marked demonstration in its favor. The operations in Michigan Southern common and preferred stocks were rot important, and both stocks were a fraction lower. The Directors of this road continue in session, have developed no particular plan of action as yet. Reading was inactive, without charge in quotations. The most prominent feature of the day in share transactions was a decided decline in Pacific Mail Steamship Company, which from 69 yesterday went to 66, and between the Boards to 654, a fall of 31 P cent. This depression is partly attributed to the unfavorable construction placed upon the report just issued and partly to the movement in the California Legislature in aid of the establishment of a rival line of steamers. Toledo held very even quotations, closing on the call at a decline of |. Rock Island was firm, with upon the whole an improving tendency. We have no recent accounts of the business of this road. but its friends count upon a 5 P cent dividend it October as almost certain. Galena was steady but attracted no especial attention. At the afternoon session the market underwent but a slight change in any of the prominent stocks, but the tone was rather firmer in a majority of the stocks quoted. Pacific

Mail rallied partially from the decline of the morning, and was in demand at 67 | at the close. The purchases of Illinois Central were, we understand, on foreign account, and the sales no doubt were on short account.

opinion on opposite sides of the Atlantic. The trade in bonds was not extensive. The largest operatione were in Mich gan Central 8 & cente ci 1886

At the close of the day the market was very firm and steady: the latest prices in the street were, for Eric, 24] #24?; Reading, 47] #47?, Michigan Southern, 25? a 251; New-York Central, 87; a 88; Cumberland, 17 Pacific Mail Steamship Company, 671; Rock Island. "The meeting of the Presidents of the branches of the State Bank with the Directors of the parent bank, to which allusion has been made, is reported to have reference to the matter of the redemption of the issue of the branches. WHAT! WHY A BEAUTIFUL HEAD OF HAIR.

WHAT! WHY A BEAUTIFUL HEAD OF HAIR.
Because it is the orrament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparaling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be startled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse ethil, if sprinslaid with gray, asture will lose more than half her charms. I'rof, WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE, if used two or three fines a weak, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Fainat, thalebra:

Dr. WOOD—Dear Sir: Permit me to express to you the obbastions I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its religious looler. About the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Bair Restorative it soon recovered its original him. I consider your Restorative it soon recovered its original one. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite effications as well as agreeable.

But Restorative it soon recovered its original opior, the whole oscieded to bry it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original opior, but to her, as well as my surprise, after a few weeks trail that performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown, at the same time beautifying and thackening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair.

Prof. O. J. Wood: With confidence do I resom mend your Hair Restorative, as being the most efficacions artiels I ever a westing your Hair Restorative my hair and involved the first in the proper in which were almost white, have gradually grown dark and I now feel confidence that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It aim has relieved me of all dandraff and unpleasant itshing, so common among persons who perspire freely.

confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all sandraff and unpleasant fishing, so common among persons who perspire freely. Prof. Wood: About two years are my hair commenced failing off and turning gray: I was fast becoming bald, soft had tried many remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up, grow out, and turned back to its former color (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, bestin and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. Chicago, Ill. May I, 1857.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, vis: large, medium and small. The small holds half a pint, and retails for El per bottle; ite medium holds at iesast 20 per cent more in proportion, and retails for E per bottle; the large holds a quart. O J.
